
each extra head is one small layer trained on top of the frozen big model; no second model to run